

CIVIC VIRTUE

Chosen Virtue: Respect

Respect means treating others the way we want to be treated. It is shown through good manners, listening to others, and understanding their feelings. Respect is important because it keeps peace in our school, home, and community. I show respect by being polite to my teachers and classmates, and by listening when someone is talking. At home, I show it by helping my parents and speaking kindly to them. Online, I practice respect by avoiding rude comments and using social media responsibly. Respect helps us avoid conflicts and makes people feel valued. When we respect others, they also learn to respect us. It builds trust, friendship, and harmony. If everyone practices respect, our community will become more peaceful and caring. Respect may seem simple, but it is one of the strongest virtues that can truly make our society better.
